When subject did not return by sundown, APD was notified. APD contacted SAR but the on-call FC was unable to attend the incident so IC Rodgers took the incident. Initial thought by APD and SAR was that the subject was a runaway minor but continued investigation showed that the probability was low for a runaway. Bernalillo Co SO Metro 2 was contacted by APD and was going to fly a search pattern over the assumed trail, but after take-off, developed mechanical issues and return to base. SAR mission was initiated and SAR resources were then notified. BCSO metro 2 was able to return and while flying search area, saw a flashing light on South Sandia Peak and went to investigate. Subject was located at 13S 369593 3887328 NAD 83 and SAR responders were turned around while in route. Metro 2 and APD picked up subject and transported to IB where subject was examined by EMS and released to mother. Subject stated that he had planned on hiking to South Sandia Peak, but assumed (incorrectly) there was a parking area there and was going to spend the night. He had not reach the peak when the sun went down but continued to hike, even with thigh deep snow in area. Subject had not informed anyone of his plan.	1	0

After "driving forever" in the dark on difficult, unmaintained road, he became stuck (high-centered) on a rock, and ran out of gas attempting to extricate his vehicle. Subject was in contact with his family all day Sunday via text messaging. Had even texted GPS coordinates to his father at about 17:00 on Sunday evening, but coordinates had a minor error in them --- referenced longitude 107 degrees instead of 106 degrees. Father called 911 around 16:00 on Sunday, and Sandoval County Sheriff's Department worked the incident until about 21:30, when they notified NMSP. SAR FC not told about coordinates until nearly 1:45 on Monday morning, in direct interview with father. Much effort had been wasted attempting to get coordinates from cell phone data up to that point, and no such information was forthcoming due to all of the data being from texts instead of voice, and provider being T-Mobile. 4 Searchers (two on horseback, two in a UTV) arrived at intersection of FR 376 and FR 652 at first light for immediate deployment as two teams of 2 to corrected coordinates obtained from father. Additionally, Classic Air volunteered flight time to assist location of subject and to provide guidance to ground teams, who were working in extraordinarily difficult terrain and on terrible roads. Subject was located by aircraft approximately 3 hours after search began, and searchers, who were only half a mile from subject, were guided by aircraft to subject location, reaching subject about an hour later. Searchers and subject worked for about 20 minutes and managed to get vehicle unstuck. Vehicle was refueled using spare gas carried by UTV, and subject and teams returned to base. Return to base took another four hours.	13	94

IC received a phone call from NMSP D-6 dispatch informing him of the Mission (16-06-02) at 2141 hrs on 05-08-2016 and the information they had so far. (Location of a "SOS" activation from a SPOT PLB@ WGS 84 12S 0756769 X 3867038 IC then responded heading for that location. IC was diverted for approx. 5 minutes by a car rollover on Hwy. 53 while in route. IC met up with Dustin Middleton, the Cibola County Emergency Manager, and we both continued to the junction of HWY .53 and CR 42. While in route IC received a phone call from D-6 dispatch informing him the Rally point was near CR41 off Hwy 53. Dustin and IC continued to that location where we found 4 or 5 NMSP cars and 1 CCSO car IC asked why we were there and after some discussion agreed we were in the wrong place. 16-06-05	9/2/2016	9/3/2016	Richard Buhite	None	Acoma Zuni Trail area El Malpais NP	Two hikers new to the area planned to hike the Acoma/Zuni Trail from West to East and come out near HWY 117. About 1/2 way of a 7 to 9 mile trail length (depending on a variation chosen,) the female got tired but wanted to continue so the male went on ahead. He arrived at the Acoma/Zuni Trail Head around 1700 and since the female had not arrived by 1900 he retraced the trail until darkness. He then returned to his vehicle (that they left parked at that end of the trail) and drove to Grants to report his overdue female hiking partner. NPS, NMSP, Cibola County EM, CCSO, and I (NM DPS 06 FC) were notified and responded to the west side (MM 70 Hwy 53) of the Acoma/Zuni Trail Head. At about 0142 mission 16-06-05 was initiated. Since it was raining and we had no one to hike into the dangerous Malpais area, we had to wait until daylight to "field searchers" from NPS Personnel since we had no SAR Teams available. We did get the local Med Flight Helicopter to spend about 1-3/4 hrs over the area with no luck mainly because NMSP fielded 4 officers with flashlights that confused the PHI Helicopter.	10	11
