SAR24000001	1/3/2024	03-Jan-24	R. Overmier		Walked out on own	Report of hikers stranded on top of White Horse Mountain after dark unprepared. Need assistance getting off the mountain. Other unknown persons contacted subjects and guided them off the mountain.	1	1
SAR24000002	1/6/2024	07-Jan-24	B. Dyea	AMRC, CISAR, BCFR, BCSO, APD Open Space, AT SAR, SFSAR, LAAFB,	135 368019E 3896826N (Approx. the five mile mark on the upper La Luz trail)	BCFD requesting NMSAR teams to assist with 3 subjects that were stuck midway up La Luz trailhead. BCFD confirmed subject(s) location via drone. Subject 1 (Male) Subject 2 (Male) Subject 3 (Female) The weather was clear, winds existed, air was extremely cold w/ trails being icy, and snow packed, making the terrain for rescue teams & extraction of subjects extremely difficult & dangerous in addition to impacting the subjects' health conditions once teams made contact. When rescuers made contact w. subjects, it was determined that all subjects needed to be treated with Hypo wraps, for frostbite and dehydration, and allowed time to warm them for walk out. During this time, rescuers determined that only 1 subject was ready to walkout, (male subject 1) but due to the severity of the other 2 remaining subjects (Male subject 2 & Female subject 3) a helicopter extraction would be needed as a life threat was imminent for female subject specifically. Ultimately, a team was formed and male subject 1 was able to walk out with rescuers making it to IB without incident. However, during this time, male subject 2's condition improved, so a determination was made to form a new team to start walking male subject 2 out also and although at a very slow pace was, male subject 2 ultimately made it to IB without further incident. Female subject 3, the most severe of the subjects, was 100% dependent on rescuers and recourses, as she was not able to care for herself in any way, walk, or make any attempts to save herself due to severe frostbite, hypothermia, and overall health condition. A Helicopter was requested, but the time to extraction was unknown, forcing the rescue team to work together utilizing a sked to extract the female subject, making every attempt possible to ensure a safe rescue was provided to the subject. During the efforts of the rescue teams moving female subject 3 via sked, word was received that a helicopter was inbound and it was determined that the female subject 3, would be provided helicopter extraction. At this time, rescue teams prepared the female subject 3 to be hoisted from their current location and taken to care which ultimately was completed. When the subjects were cleared from the mountain, "return to base," for the remaining rescue personnel, and a stand down at 1159.	50	469

SAR24000007	1/18/2024	18-Jan-24	L. Wlosinski		The subject began walking along an unknown road/jeep trail. She was found by a hunter and transported by private vehicle to Silver City.	A long distance, charity trail running event began on the CDT near C Bar Ranch on the morning of 1/18/24. Runners were to complete a 60 mile course along the CDT and public roads/trails to Silver City in mountain winter conditions. At approximately the 8 mile mark, the runners stopped at the CDT/Jack's Peak TH on Hwy 90 for a planned rest break. One of the trail runners, subject Karen Voller, left the TH but immediately fell behind. The RP back tracked to the subject within a quarter mile of the TH. The subject assured the RP that she was ok and had her phone with gps installed. The subject told the RP to continue running and that she would catch up. The trail runners stopped for a break at the Red Rock Rd junction with the CDT. The subject did not show up and her phone was discovered to be in the support vehicle. The RP and her partner contacted GCSO at approximately 1315 to report the missing runner. They were advised to wait until 1430 before requesting a search and rescue operation. The partner was unsuccessful in making phone contact with the GCSO and assumed a mission was started. The runners continued on to Silver City while the partner drove the roads searching for the subject.	1	3
