Subject 1 did not have a watch but estimated they rolled the UTV at approximately 1200 and that subject 2 left at about 1230. When it got dark that evening, subject 1 felt that subject 2 must not be coming back. He was cold and walked to a nearby pump jack and curled up next to the motor to keep warm. At daylight he walked back to the truck. At 0703 he left with Eddy County SO deputies to lead them to the UTV. Care Flight arrived on scene at 0721. SO drove the roads and at 0741 discovered subject 2 deceased on a well pad approximately 2.3 miles east for the LKP and a few hundred yards from the UTV. Subject 1 notified subject 2's family of the death via cell phone. At 0745 Care Flight was released and RTB. MI contacted me and I cancelled incoming units. 15-07-18	12/10/2015	12/10/2015	Bob Rodgers	CAP		On 9 December 2015, friends reported to the SAR office they were concerned about their friend not reporting in while hiking. Subject is a southbound Continental Divide hiker. He was dropped off on Hwy 17 on 14 November at approx. 09:00hrs at the head of FR 87, just east of the Cumbres Pass at Apache Canyon. Initial reports have the subject not walking on the CDT due to snow but planned on taking a series of trails and forest roads to hike to Ghost Ranch where a package was waiting for him. Ghost Ranch confirmed hiker did not pick up package and had not signed the CDT register located at Ghost Ranch. CAP flew approx. 5 sorties over the area between Chama and Ghost Ranch, a search area over 300 sq miles, and did not locate any hikers in the area. While CAP was conducting air search, received notification that CDT trail angel located southbound tracks south of Cuba, NM. Also received notification a ranch foreman of Circle A ranch north of Cuba reported seeing a hiker matching the description of the subject walking along Los Pinos Canyon Rd, north of Cuba, NM on 3 December. Weather conditions prevented any further air search on 11 December so mission was suspended pending further clues. On 10 December, received notification that a hiker matching the description of the missing subject was seen entering the town of Grants, NM on Friday, 9 December. USFS employee at the Mt Taylor Ranger District HQ saw and talked to hiker and confirmed that hiker may be the missing subject. Search of Grants by SAR RO and LE did not locate subject but another witness did see a person matching the subject's description in Grants.	0	0

Their plan was to call a family member with their cell phone to request a pick-up when they reached their destination. Last cell phone contact with the reporting party occurred around 1500 hrs on 6/7/15 with no report of their location a quick ending to the call because of an approaching storm. A ground team was driven to less than a mile from the subject's last known location and began to make their way in that direction. At the same time, the subject began making his way towards the lights of the team's vehicle. After rewarming, feeding, and hydrating the subjects, the team escorted them back to their vehicle, having to stop for a couple of hours on the return to allow the pair to rest and warm up by a fire. Subject was unable to pinpoint where he met motorist	A 29 yo male went for a short hike from his residence and was expected to return within two hours. When the subject did not return by dark, the subject's wife called local police who conducted an initial search. When those efforts failed to locate the subject, NMSP was finally notified, and a SAR mission initiated. Field teams were deployed to track the subject and search the area where he had been known to hike. Possibly prior to the search efforts, the subject had become stuck in a rocky area and settled in for the night to await daylight. In the morning, he was able to see the highway and made his way down to the road. There, he flagged down a motorist and borrowed his cell phone to call his wife. She then went to pick him and called the IC to let him know her husband was OK. The subject was in good condition and refused nay medical assistance.	8	48

A passing backpacker met the couple and volunteered to report the situation to the superintendent of the Gila Cliff Dwellings who called NMSP. A SAR mission was then activated to evacuate the subject. A ground team deployed that night to confirm the subject's location, assess her condition, and inform her that a rescue was underway. The next morning a mounted team rode to Jordan Hot Springs and evacuated the subject to the couple's vehicle at the TJ Corral trail head. She refused any medical treatment at IB but was driven to an emergency room care center in Silver City by her husband, where they were to seek further evaluation and treatment.	8	112
15-12-05	4/11/2015	4/11/2015	Marc Levesque	GCSAR, NMNG	UTM 12S 0751408 x 3685394 WGS 84	A 54 year old male and his daughter were on an extended backpacking trip when he began vomiting and complaining of severe pain on his right side one morning at their campsite. Based on his 32 years as a firefighter and paramedic, he suspected that it might be appendicitis. His daughter then hiked the 10 miles to the Gila Cliff Dwellings to report the situation. Based on the information known at that time, a rescue mission was initiated that included a mounted team and a medevac helicopter. En-route to the subject's estimated location, the mounted team encountered the subject who was walking and reported he had been eating and drinking and had not vomited for six hours. At this point, the subject rode out with the team, and the helicopter was stood down. An evaluation by an EMS paramedic at the trail head determined the subject might be experiencing a kidney stone that might pass in a day or two. The subject declined medical treatment or transport but was transported to Silver City, along with his daughter, by a SAR team member, where they were to stay to be near a medical facility until the situation resolved.	10	46

Running out of water and becoming severely dehydrated, he called 911 using a disconnected cell phone. Initial location coordinates placed him four miles east of I10 Exit 102. An attempt to locate him by a Luna County deputy proved futile, as the location coordinates were later determined to be grossly inaccurate. A coordinated effort between NMSP SAR and a USCBP BORSTAR team narrowed the search area for deployment of vehicle and ATV teams well south of the IPP. A NMNG helicopter was also deployed to search area and eventually spotted the subject's cell phone light using FLIR. The ship landed to extract the subject and flew him to a waiting ambulance at IB. The subject was then taken to a Deming hospital but later transferred to a Las Cruces hospital where he was treated for complications from severe dehydration. Upon recovery, the subject is expected to be returned to his home country.	35	112

Leaving the subject with as much food as possible, the remaining members hiked out to the Gila Cliff Dwellings, where they reported the situation on the afternoon of 6/17/15. A call from the RP to the SAR Field Coordinator that afternoon provided location information on where the subject was camping approximately 23 miles from the Cliff Dwellings and that the subject was epileptic and diabetic but had sufficient medications with him. A USFS mounted trail crew was deployed on the morning of 6/18/15 and reached the subject at approximately 2000 that evening. The crew reported the subject was injured with a sprained ankle, had reported himself as schizophrenic and would run out of medication in the morning, and was requesting assistance from a psychiatrist. The trail crew further reported they would be unable to safety transport the subject on the extra pack horse they had brought. Based on this new information, a NMNG host-capable helicopter was requested to extract the subject and transport him to a nearby hospital. This was accomplished on the morning of 6/19/15 when the subject was delivered to the Gila Regional Medical Center where he was evaluated and treated for his medical issues.	7	11

On the second day of their trip, one of the kayaks developed a leak, likely the result of rocks from low water conditions. Loading all their gear in the remaining kayak, the pair continued down river, dragging the kayak much of the way. Around 1600-1700 on 8/9/15, the pair became separated, and the lead kayaker was unable to establish contact with his companion. After several attempts to do so, he proceeded down river to their pull out destination, where he waited some time before summoning assistance. A SAR mission was launched, and the reported party was asked to search a road to the east for containment. After camping the first night, heavy rains and the resulting rise of river water levels and current flow stranded them at their camp's location. A family member reported them overdue after they failed to return home on the evening of 10/21/15. Because of continuing high water levels and current, a SAR mission was not initiated until the evening of 10/22/15. On the morning of 10/23/15, a helicopter crew spotted the three subjects approximately six miles up river from the trail head. Subsequently, a mounted team was deployed to the subjects' location and encountered the subjects who had started walking downstream with lowering water levels.
